

Introduction of Keynote Speaker Annika Sorenstam
Florida Philanthropic Network 2010 Summit
Peabody Hotel
Orlando, Florida
February 11, 2010

"Share my passion" is the mantra of our guest speaker. To Annika Sorenstam, golf was child's play in Sweden. At the University of Arizona, golf was collegiate play. On the world stage, golf was no longer play --- it was her passion on her way to becoming the Arnold Palmer of women's golf. And just like our hometown Arnold Palmer, our hometown Annika Sorenstam is more than just golf. She is Annika Academy, Annika Course Design, Annika Financial, Annika Cutter Buck, Shop Annika.com, Annika's Vineyards, Annika's blog, Annika on Twitter and Annika's Foundation.

Her book GOLF ANNIKA'S WAY is an excellent instructional text on the game of golf, but like Annika, it is much more ... It's about fitness, health, nutrition (her favorite is Annika Thai Chicken pasta), and Annika's Rules for Life.

Please turn your attention to the DVD to learn a little bit more about our hometown Annika.
